

The CHILD Protection Act of 2027

Corruption Hiding Inside Legal Dockets

The problem

Too many children are caught in a family-court system that can protect insiders instead of kids. When dockets stay closed and courts aren't held accountable, families pay the price — and children lose. Eliminating corruption in the family courts is the cause at the center of Matt Grant's candidacy.

The solution — the CHILD Protection Act of 2027

Corruption Hiding Inside Legal Dockets. The proposal calls for federal oversight that ties Title IV-D federal grant money to state family-court compliance — using the federal grant program as the lever for accountability in state family courts. Clean, accountable courts keep the federal check; corrupt ones don't.

Why Matt

A neighbor, a dad, and a problem-solver with 23 years in the courtroom. He has already taken this fight to federal court — a matter of public record. Matt doesn't just talk; he takes action, and he's running for Congress to put Missouri's children first.

The ask

Endorse the reform, stand as an issue ally, or help amplify it to Missouri families.
